Railroad Meeting.

About forty of the land owners in the Sturm Hill community gathered at the Sturm Hill school house Friday night, Feb. 25, to hear the plans discussed of the proposed San Antonio, Rock Springs and Western R. R., which will pass through that part of Medina Co. N. L. Williams, president of the company and general manager, E. L. Gammage, assistant manager, H. C. King, general attorney, and Mr. Stephens, correspondent for the San Antonio Express, who were to speak at the meeting arrived about an hour late, having broken down with their car about three miles from the school-house.

Messrs. R. Davies and A. Pfeiffer, of San Antonio, representing the Holding Company, who had been working up interest in that community all week, were present and Mr. Pfeiffer opened up the meeting, discussing the proposed line from a general standpoint, stating that the money was now available to build the proposed road and that actual construction would probably start within thirty days after the right of way and the bonus notes had been secured. He stated plainly that the bonus notes were not to help the construction of the railroad but were only to guarantee a return on the millions of dollars which are involved in the construction. This fact is plain, as notes are drawn up in a way that they do not mature till the road is actually constructed and rolling stock passing over same.

Committees were named to go with the representatives of the company every day to assist in procuring these notes.

At this point of the meeting the delayed speakers arrived and addresses were made by N. L. Williams, E. L. Gammage, H. C. King and Mr. Stephens.

Mr. Williams, in brief, went over the entire detail, assuring the people again that Col. L. P. Featherstone was ready to go to work and that all depended on getting these bonus notes and right of ways procured. He told those attending that the original plans of the company had been changed and that the road would not come through Riomedina, as first proposed. By changing the route thus, some of the most expensive construction can be avoided and still maintain an air line from San Antonio to Medina Dam, over which part of the road, as soon as the line is completed, it is proposed to run hourly interurban trains. There will be school house meetings every week along the line and representatives, accompanied by local committees, will be in the field every day and work will not be let up till all right of ways and bonus notes are procured, for with out these the railroad will not be built.

Big Oil Excitement in Medina County.

Mr. Fritz Fuchs, the discoverer of the Thrall oil field, has been working in Medina County for some time, and has had eight geologists from different parts of the state to pass on his holdings for prospects of oil and gas, and they all agree that a location 15 miles south of Hondo, near Yancey and near the Schmidt gas well, is the most promising location for oil and gas in South Texas. Mr. Fuchs has closed a deal with the Ewell-Nalle Oil Company to drill a deep test well on the Nixon land, near Yancey, by which he will furnish a big, deep-well, rotary rig. The Ewell Nalle Oil Company is one of the most reliable oil companies in the South, and has one of the most careful drillers known. The drilling rig was moved out on the location during the past week, and they are now about ready to start the deep well. There is no doubt that a big oil well will be brought in.

A Revival of Masonry in Hondo.

Royal Arch Masonry has been put on a higher plane in Hondo this week under the instructions of Mr. J. C. Warren, of San Antonio, a well known instructor in Royal Arch Masonry in this Grand Jurisdiction, who has been here this week assisting the local Chapter in conferring the degrees. Up to this time there have been exalted seven of the best young men of this town, in fact, the very cream of the town, namely: Prof. Guy T. Newton, Will Muennink, Dr. O. B. Taylor, O. A. Fly, Will Windrow, Garland Martin, Prof. J. D. Howell.

The work was completed with last night's session. Mr. John Heven, High Priest of the Chapter, has been untiring in his efforts to advance the work. Mr. Warren leaves this morning for San Antonio where he will join a party of five or six Scottish Rite Masons who will make a tour visiting the lodges along the Southern Pacific as far as Del Rio. They will make a stop at this place either going or coming, the date of which will be announced by the Master of the local lodge.

Married.

Mr. Henry Hilt, of San Antonio, and Miss Katie Dabbs were united in marriage last Saturday night at 8:30 at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. C. Dabbs, Judge A. M. Lamm performing the ceremony. These young people will make their home in San Antonio.

Mr. Kurt Scharf and Miss Nettie Muennink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Folkert Muennink, were happily married at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday, February 22, 1921. Rev. C. E. Wheat of Yancey performing the ceremony. Mr. Scharf is an industrious young farmer and is to be congratulated on winning for his bride so charming a young lady. They will make their home on Mr. Scharf's farm about ten miles south of Hondo.

The Chautauqua.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua Company has come and gone and its visit is now only a pleasant memory. While from a financial standpoint the appearance of the company here, owing to the very inclement weather, was somewhat of a disappointment, the good, wholesome entertainment and educational features offered were greatly enjoyed by all those who were fortunate enough to be able to attend the entire course. The lectures were timely, the concerts pleasing, and altogether the company's visit here may be pronounced an unqualified success.

As mentioned above there was a deficit in the guarantee to the company and this deficit, some $90.00, was made up by some thirty-three of the business men of the town.

One of the novel features of the Chautauqua Company's visit here was the attendance of all the children of the Hondo schools at the Thursday afternoon entertainment as the guests of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce.

That the visit of the company here was entirely satisfactory to our people is evidenced by the fact that Hondo will be included in the itinerary of the company next season, thirty-one of our citizens entering into a contract with the company to that effect.

Farm Loan Bank Bonds Legal.

The Federal farm loan bonds were held legal and constitutional by the Supreme Court in a decision rendered Monday. The farm loans were enjoined practically over a year and will now soon do business again. Secretary H. E. Haass of the Hondo local informs us that new applications will be available soon, and all prospective borrowers should have abstracts prepared and keep posted on events. Bonds will have to be sold, etc., before loans will be made, however, it will be in the near future that business will be resumed.

A Real Rain.

A real rain, not a "little old zizzling, zozzling shower," fell here between midnight Monday night and noon Tuesday, the total precipitation aggregating 3.35 inches. The rain was timely as both the farms and ranges were getting very much in need of moisture. The rain covered a large territory, the whole of West and Middle Texas, as well as the coast country being included in the territory covered. The rain has revived the drooping spirits of our citizens and all take a more rosy view of the future.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Warning! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacetic Acidester of Salicylic Acid.

Mother

"California Syrup of Figs" is Child's Best Laxative

Beware! Say "California" or you may not get the genuine "California Syrup of Figs" which doctors recommend for babies and children of all ages. Nothing else cleans the little bowels and regulates the child's stomach and liver so gently, so thoroughly. Directions on each bottle. But you must say "California." Don't be talked into an imitation fig syrup which hasn't the delicious, fruity taste or the perfect "laxative" quality.

DIDN'T THINK HE COULD PLANT CROP.
After Taking Tanlac Sampson
Says He Can Do As Big Day's Work As Ever.

"My health was so poor it looked like I wouldn't be able to plant a crop, but since taking Tanlac I can do as big a day's work as I ever could,"
said A. D. Sampson, a well known farmer of Moray, Kan.

"I was just about laid out, altogether, and I had tried all sorts of medicine but nothing helped me. My stomach was in an awful fix. I never wanted to eat much of anything and what I did force down seemed to do me more harm than good. Malaria was all through my system and at times I had pains all over my body. I was badly constipated, felt bilious and had a mean taste in my mouth nearly all the time. I was subject to terrible headaches and at times was so dizzy I would almost fall right in my tracks.
I was too nervous to sleep well, and felt so weak and listless all day long that I was just able to get around the house."

"A little more than two months ago I started taking Tanlac and it has put me back in fine shape feeling like my old self again. I have a corking good appetite and can eat anything I ever could without a sign of indigestion. I am not constipated now, and am never troubled with headaches or dizzy spells. The malaria has all been driven out of my system and I never feel bilious or have that mean taste in my mouth now. I feel well, strong and healthy like a man ought to feel.
This is what Tanlac has done for me and I don't mind telling people about it."

Tanlac is sold in Hondo by W. H.
Windrow, in Castroville by Joseph
Courand & Co.; and in Dunlap by Louis
A. Baby; and by all leading druggists.

The Public Health Nurse.

Since being supplied with a handsome Ford Coupe, by the Executive Board of the local Red Cross Chapter, Miss Mary Fitzsimon, the Public Health Nurse has been enabled to get about more easily and accomplish much work. She has visited the schools professionally and made examinations of pupils of several of the classes in each, and has found some evidences of physical defects for which she has recommended treatment, besides this she has supervised the equipment of the Health Center in East Del Rio, which is to be formally opened on next Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 6 with appropriate ceremonies and for which occasion the State Advisory Nurse will be on hand. The opening of the Health Center will be chiefly a social event, but the opportunity will be embraced to make known the plan and scope of the work, for which it has been established. An invitation to be present at the opening is extended to the public and there will doubtless be a large attendance.

"Miss Fitzsimon has been doing some visiting nurse work also, out of which much good has already resulted. The latest call upon her services was from the jail, where a prisoner, an overseas man is suffering from a wound received 'over there'. She bestowed upon him all possible attention. She is in no wise enthusiastic about sanitary conditions of the County Jail. Miss Fitzsimon has already observed enough to convince her that there is plenty of work here for her and her mind is made up to do as much of it as will come within the range of human possibility—and it is to be hoped that he will have ample support and co-operation.—West Texas News.

Mrs. T. E. Wyatt and Miss Sarah returned to San Antonio Tuesday night after spending several days here.

Mrs. T. C. Gilliam has returned from a short visit with relatives at Yancey and Hondo.—Uvalde Leader-News.

May I count on you?

A willingness to take council from his friends is an element of true greatness!

HE is a real friend who weighs well the council he gives. It is a duty he can not escape—and be a real friend.

WHEN men in their zeal make it a statutory crime to perform acts that carry no moral turpitude in their commission, they are themselves violating elemental laws of human rights that can but result in anarchy and lawlessness. Therein lies the cause for much of the unrest and crime that now afflicts the country.

THE sugar crop of the United States in 1920 aggregated 2,605,174,000 pounds. This was an increase of 15 per cent over the record output of 1916 and 53 per cent increase over the crop of 1919. The United States produces only about one-fourth of the sugar they consume, and the per capita consumption averages from 71 to 92 pounds per year. Despite the high prices that prevailed last year, there was a record per capita consumption of 92 pounds.

THAT country is best governed that is least governed". Which is another way of saying that that country is the most fortunate that needs the least government. The only rightful function of government is to protect the peaceful, honest people in their lives, liberty, property and the rightful pursuit of happiness against the dishonest and dangerous, the irresponsible within the social body. Could this element be eliminated, each individual would become a self-governing unit in the harmonious whole, sufficient unto all needful purposes, and all over-lording government would cease because useless. Idealism, of course, but nevertheless true.

IN the course of a public speech recently in opposition to the proposed disarmament of nations, Major General Robert Lee Bullard of the United States army—who by the way holds his job by the maintenance of armaments—gave the world a new "slant" on Darwin's theory of evolution. The General said: "It is a significant fact that from the monkey to the American, the state of their culture and their advancement corresponds exactly to the state of their armament. The monkeys that in the struggle of life had sense enough to pick up and use a stick as an arm developed into men. The others remained monkeys." But despite the skill of some men (?) in the use of arms the General is surely "some monkey" chatterer!

IN defending, before the Ways and Means Committee of Congress, their demand for duty on free hides, the leather men contended that any duty on hides would raise the price of shoes, harness, traveling cases and other articles made of leather. To be sure it will. That would be its very purpose. Yet the leather men use that as an argument against a tariff duty on hides, which will benefit every farmer who grows a calf, a lamb or a goat by increasing the price of the hide, and then they turn right around and use the same argument for a protective tariff duty on tanned leather. "American tanners", they say, "desire that the proposed duties shall be sufficient to protect their product (raise its price) against inroads by foreign competitors. "Funny logic, isn't it? Think of using the same plea in justification of a duty that will protect the 75,000 people engaged in the tanning industry and in opposition to a like duty that would render a like service to the millions of farmers in this country who are growing live stock? What becomes of the wholesome doctrine of the greatest good to the greatest number?

The Wood-Texas Well.

The drill goes steadily down in the Vanderpool well. They are now about 2800 feet and drilling in the same black lime formation that has shown up for the last 800 feet. It is the same formation in which the two strikes of oil bearing sand have been struck and a big strike is expected at any hour. The spirit of optimism is running riot over there and leases are still climbing. The Porter property ten miles away has been leased at $7.00 and others from $5.00 and higher within the ten mile limit.

E. L. Etter was at Eagle Pass the first of the week to see his brother, Otto, who had lost his voice, but is all right again.—Lacoste Ledger.

Fletcherized Farm Facts

BY FLETCHER DAVIS

Texas never produces enough corn to supply her own needs. It is one of the big items among the state's imports every year. And yet it can be more generally grown over the state than any of our other crops. It is adapted to a greater variety of soils and wider variations of weather and climatic conditions than any.

It is corn planting time now over the greater part of the state. No other crop responds more readily to a properly prepared seed-bed and good cultivation than does corn. Corn should have a well pulverized but firm seed-bed. It should contain plenty of humus and must be sufficiently moist to assure germination. The mistake is too often made of planting corn down on the cold, inert subsoil, where there is no humus and no bacterial life. The consequence is that the crop is slow to start and gets a serious backset in the beginning of its growth. Then, too, neither can the tiny rootlets penetrate the hard ground, but spread out and become sensitive to drought. It is well to plant corn considerably below the surface on well drained soils and where droughts are liable to be encountered. But a good seed bed should not be sacrificed for depth of planting when a little care in preparation can secure both.

The greatest difficulty encountered in growing corn in Texas is the dry, hot weather usually prevalent in June, or about fruiting time. When seasons are favorable then, the corn crop is never a complete failure. The effort should be to bring the crop to as early maturity as possible and in that way beat the dry, hot winds to it.

In seeking to bring the crop to early maturity it is important to select the seed of an early maturing variety, and one that has been proven adapted to the locality if possible. This, coupled with a good seed-bed—a bed that will permit the roots to set deep in the ground where they can find the moisture, be hidden from the intense surface heat from the sun and, at the same time, find plenty of readily available plant food—and proper and timely (which generally means frequent) cultivation, will usually win the race for a crop.

Corn should be planted in such a way as to best facilitate cultivation. It goes without saying that this is afforded best by checking method is only adapted to ing and cultivation. Hence be generally employed. planting has come into favor of recent years over state. It has been found planting corn about twice in the row and twice as the drill it will stand drought properly cultivated—make same amount of corn per acre the close-up system and for a soil-building legume the rows. This is to be commended on this land.

During the dry season Mexican farmer down in county planted his corn water-furrow between some ridges. These steep, high as a watershed and caused of rain that fell to gravity the deep water furrow grate around the roots of. Then after each of the ers and before the moisture time to evaporate from the furrow, he ran a heavy ridges, dragging down the dryer and finely pulverized the top of the ridges into furrow, thus placing a ure in around the roots of He kept this up until the nearly level and the corn drive over, and without cultivation, made a fair crop when others around him pletely.

In seeking a commercial this uncertain year, it is farmers of this section to that when our crop succeures in time for us to put on the market several vance of the influx of North corn. In this way, we receive good prices for the because the old crop is exhausted by that time it is less weevil or worm damage world is anxious to buy our corn. This fact is worthy of sideration at this time.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. . . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and never without it."
